Oh dear! I am looking forward to our next Christmas break!!! Two weeks with no school, no more tests and no homework !!! And there is going to be plenty of fun with all my family and friends. But I should introduce myself first: my name is Sam, I am twelve years old and I live in a small terraced house in London. I have got a twin sister, Ally and a younger brother Joss who is seven years old. My father Tim is forty- two and he is a vet, and my mother, Bridget is forty and she works as a careers advisor in two schools. We started our Christmas shopping last weekend, I am going to have a tablet, a small sofa I am going to share with my brother in our bedroom, and some nice new clothes. Ally will have a new watch, a mobile and some clothes as well, as for my little brother, he is going to have the last Star Wars robots and video games: he has become crazy about that story, and keeps imagining himself as Luke Skywalker !! We have bought a nice dress for Mum and a telescope for Dad as he likes watching stars. We are going to invite all our family relatives home, that is my grandparents, and my uncle John and aunt Sue and my two cousins, Alex, eleven and Debby fourteen. Here in England, we usually have a big lunch on Christmas day with a turkey, roast vegetables, mince pies, a Christmas cake and of course the pudding which Mum has just started preparing !! In the afternoon, we will watch Queen Elizabeth's wishes on TV. My cousins will stay at home with us until New Year's Eve. I am sure it is going to be great, and I wish you all a very merry Christmas and a happy new year!!
